Brendoncare The Old Parsonage

The Old Parsonage aims to enable older people to live independent, happy and fulfilling lives. It is situated in the pretty village of Otterbourne, set back from the main road which links Winchester and Southampton. The early Victorian house has been considerably extended to provide accommodation suitable for nursing, while maintaining its atmosphere and charm.

The walled garden and extensive grounds add to the character of the Home which also provides support and facilities to the 22 sheltered housing apartments and bungalows situated within the boundaries.

The home offers nursing care for 28 people. In the older part of the house each room is different, with its own particular character, and so can reflect the personality of each resident. In the newer nursing wing, people are still encouraged to bring their own possessions and furniture, even their pets if appropriate, and to arrange their room so that it really feels like home.

The philosophy of The Old Parsonage is that residents should be able to make decisions for themselves and choose how to spend their time. Many of them enjoy going out, joining in activities or just spending time with each other. There are volunteers who visit regularly, and the home enjoys strong links with the local community and also a League of Friends. Residents are encouraged to continue with previous leisure interests, and there are plenty of opportunities to be sociable. However, for those who prefer more peace and solitude, their privacy is respected.

Meals are considered an important part of the day and the chef provides a wide variety of home-cooked meals which are appetising and well presented, and always meet high nutritional standards. Special diets and personal preferences can be catered for. Residents can have meals served in their rooms but most enjoy the more relaxed atmosphere in either of the dining rooms where their family and friends can join them. We are always pleased to celebrate birthdays, anniversaries and other special events. Family parties can also be arranged.

Led by an enthusiastic and well-qualified Care Centre Manager, the staff at The Old Parsonage work as a close team and are committed to the Brendoncare philosophy. They make every effort to provide care which promotes privacy and dignity, and to understand each resident's needs and preferences. Registered Nurses are always on duty supported by well-trained Care Assistants, and all the staff receive continuous education and development. Local GPs support the Home and visit regularly so that residents can be registered with the doctor of their choice. A chiropodist and a beautician attend on a regular basis and other services can always be arranged. A part-time physiotherapist is available on a consultancy basis.

The Old Parsonage has a warm and friendly family atmosphere, and the staff and volunteers are highly motivated and passionate about delivering quality personalised care to residents.

The Old Parsonage provides a home where older people can be helped to live as normally as possible and where the emphasis is on quality and enjoyment of life. The staff offer highly skilled nursing and rehabilitation when necessary, and are proud to do so in an atmosphere where residents can feel they are still in charge of their own lives.
